ASUW Mission Statement

The Associated Students of the University of Washington (ASUW) is the democratic voice of students that engages the campus community through programming, services and advocacy. ASUW strives to enrich student life and develop future leaders.

What does ASUW even do?

The ASUW is the governing body on the University of Washington campus. The Association is composed of student ran commissions, programs, enterprises, committees, and an executive-making body called the Board of Directors. The ASUW provides programs and services and acts as an advocate for student issues and concerns while also providing funding to registered student organizations.
